Additional Information

The Washington Summer Transition Institute is funded by the Washington Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (WA-DVR) and coordinated by Washington State University Research and Innovation in Special Education (WSU RISE). Thank you to all the presenters and event coordinators who have generously given their time to support the overall purpose of this event; and, to all the participants who have taken time out of their summer routines to attend, engage and learn! Together we can work to improve post-secondary outcomes for students with disabilities!
